

Prof. Dr. Alexandra Preisser

Position:

Head of department

Department:

Clinical Occupational Medicine

University:

Institute for Occupational and Maritime Medicine, Germany

Short Bio:

As deputy director of the institute and head of the working group Clinical Occupational Medicine, her responsibilities include academic lectures, design of student teaching, as well as the advice of doctors, authorities, and employees. Her working group conducts basic and applied research to work-related adverse health effects, the outpatient clinic for occupational medicine with allergy and asthma diagnostics, poisoning diagnostics, and other occupational health examinations.

Expertise:

occupational medicine, internal medicine and pulmonology; work-related lung diseases