1.Introduction

All Erasmus+ transfers, whether for studies or for internship, are coordinated by:

1. Erasmus office of the University of Thessaly

<https://www.uth.gr/en/international/erasmus/international-credit-mobility>

<http://erasmus.uth.gr/en/>

2. The Academic Coordinator appointed at Department Level

<https://www.med.uth.gr/en/DetailsStatEN.aspx?StatID=90>

Postgraduate students are informed about the possibility to move through Erasmus+ by the Director of the Program during the Reception Day, by their academic advisor at regular intervals during the progress of their studies and by the official website of Erasmus+ of the University of Thessaly.

2. Erasmus+ studies

All registered active students of the University of Thessaly, at all levels of study (undergraduate, postgraduate, doctorate), can become Erasmus+ students and carry out part of their Study Program at a Partner University based on the existing Erasmus+ University Charter and the University's Agreement with the National Agency (I.K.Y.), which manages the granting of scholarships for student mobility. More specifically, any student of the University of Thessaly can participate in the Erasmus+ Program, provided that:

- Has completed at least the first year of university studies.
- Has not completed the minimum number of credits required to obtain his/her degree, i.e. there is a period of study, at the time of application, that students can replace by studying at a university participating in the ERASMUS+ programme.
- He/she is enrolled in an official study program of the University of Thessaly, which leads to the acquisition of a degree or other degree, including master's and doctorate, and is recognized according to the procedures of the interested participating country.
- Has sufficient knowledge of the language at the host university in which the modules to be attended are delivered. The level of language required by each Host Institution is considered sufficient. In order for the student's transfer to be approved, it is necessary to have submitted to the International Relations Office along with his/her application the relevant language certificate.

The selection criteria are announced in advance on the websites of the Academic Departments and are related to the particularities of the programs of study. If candidates meet all the requirements set by the Departments to which they belong, priority is given to those who:

- are students with disabilities
- have the best overall picture (taking into account, for example, the consistency of the student, the absence of disciplinary offenses, the consistency in studies and attendance ("eternal" students are prevented, the past ineffective and non-remunerative use of educational exchange programs, etc.)
- have the best knowledge of the working language at the Host University
- have certified language proficiency in more than one language
- have passed most compulsory modules
- are in a senior year
- have overall best grades

3. Erasmus+ internship

The programme ERASMUS+ PLACEMENT supports the mobility of students (undergraduate, postgraduate & PhD candidates) in order to carry out an internship in companies, organizations, universities and research centers in European countries participating in the Programme.

Οι στόχοι της κινητικότητας των φοιτητών στο εξωτερικό για πρακτική άσκηση στο πλαίσιο του Erasmus+ είναι :

- Acquisition of work experience and development of professional skills
- Easier and better integration of graduates into the production process
- Practical application of knowledge in the professional field
- Acquaintance and understanding of the economic and cultural conditions of other European countries
- Exchange of information between the University and businesses for a more effective link between theory and practice

Scope of Internship

The subject of the Internship abroad should be relevant to the subject of study of the student at UTH.

The Internship should not be part / part of a dissertation or dissertation. The programme supports the development of students' professional skills rather than their current research activity. Therefore, the student may work in an Institution engaged in research, only under the condition that the subject of the Internship is determined by the given needs and activities of the Host Institution and is not configured to serve part / part of a dissertation or dissertation. Of course, the knowledge and skills that the student will acquire, such as learning a technique, can be used by the trainee in the context of his personal research activities.

The Role of the Business/Company

Provides the trainee with the conditions for his/her practical training in the company
Supervises with one of its executives the work performed by the student.

It provides all the information deemed necessary for the implementation of the objectives as well as the required logistical infrastructure.

The Role of the Student

The student is informed from the website of the Office of International Educational Programs about the procedure and deadlines as well as the results of the selection process.

He is responsible for finding the host institution and agreeing on the period of his/her Internship, as well as on the details of his/her travel and residence in the host country (visa issuance, special insurance covers, residence permit, travel advice).

After being informed about the requirements of the company by its responsible executive, he tries to meet the duties assigned to him under the supervision of a faculty member.

At the end of the Internship, the trainee delivers a detailed report on the subject assigned to him and the deliverables.

3. Staff mobility

Conditions for participation

All teaching staff members (FACULTY, EEP, EDIP, Contract tutors with five years of experience at the University of Thessaly) can participate in Erasmus mobility for teaching, provided that they meet the following conditions:

- Valid and Active Bilateral Agreement with the Host University.
- Minimum duration 8 teaching hours/week*
- Invitation from the Host Institution.
- Pre-agreed teaching schedule and its integration into the regular curriculum of the Host Institution

*Erasmus+ teaching week lasts from 2 to 5 working days

Members of the Teaching Staff of the University of Thessaly who wish to move during the winter and/or spring semester of the next academic year fill in and submit from 1 to 30 April the form "Erasmus+ Teaching Application" accompanied by the teaching program they wish to follow (if this has already been prepared).

Applications are assessed for eligibility* by the International Relations Office and classified according to the criteria set and according to the number of applications and funding approved by the Erasmus+ National Agency for the specific time period.

*Eligible applications are those based on an already existing bilateral cooperation of the Department to which the applicant belongs and which provides for transfer to the specific discipline.

After the selection is made, the results are announced electronically to the tutors who should submit as soon as possible the form "Teaching Mobility Agreement" fully completed to the Assembly of the Department where they belong, in order to approve (or not) the following:

- the use of this bilateral agreement
- the proposed curriculum
- leave of absence on the specific dates from their duties at the University of Thessaly.

The relevant extract from the minutes of the S.T., the form "Approval of Staff Movement for Teaching" signed and stamped by the Head of the Department as well as the form "Teaching Mobility Agreement" are submitted to the International Relations Office. (deadlines and clarifications see category: 'Before moving')
